Dear Parents/Carers,

As you are all aware Mrs Jones has been absent from her class and duties on compassionate leave. She has asked me to share with the wider community the reason for this. Tragically, a fortnight ago Mrs Jones received the heart breaking and tragic news that her husband had suddenly and unexpectedly passed away. Our thoughts and condolences are with both Nicola and her daughter Louise during this incredibly sad and difficult time.

I would like to thank parents for redirecting their correspondence to either Mrs Rogers or myself. Mrs Jones is continuing to be on compassionate leave, although popping into school and picking up some work from time to time. Please continue to contact Mrs Rogers or myself with questions and queries.

Being the conscientious person that she is Nicola is aware that parents in her class will not have had their parental consultation. She has therefore written a short statement for the children in her class and this will be emailed to you this week.

For the last two weeks, a supply teacher Mrs Chater has taught Seedlings. However, from this week Mrs Chamberlain will be stepping up to lead the class with both Miss Slade and Mrs Hinsley supporting. Mrs Chamberlain will be delivering plans written by Mrs Jones and as you all are aware knows the children incredibly well and the children respect and know her too. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs Chamberlain for stepping up into this role.

As always, if you have any questions regarding any of the details in this letter then please do not hesitate to ask.

Kind regards

Susie Collins
